PHRASES ITALIAN GREETINGS

Basic Italian

Buongiorno: Good morning. Usually said until 4pm.
Buona sera: Good evening. Usually said after 4pm.
Buona notte: Good night. Only used to say good-bye, it is usually said before parting ways after 10pm, or before going to sleep.
Ciao: Hello or goodbye. A very informal greeting.
Salve: A way to say hello, used especially in Rome (it's Latin!) and, in formality, in between "ciao" and "buongiorno."
Arrivederci: A formal way to say goodbye. Literally means "until we see each other again."

Other common Italian phrases

Per favore: Please
Grazie: Thank you. You may also hear "grazie mille" (literally "a thousand thanks") to mean many thanks.
Prego: You're welcome
Mi chiamo...: My name is... You may also say "Sono..."
Non parlo italiano: I don't speak Italian
Parla inglese?: Do you speak English? This is the formal version, but you can also ask "parli inglese?" if you'd like to be informal.
Sì: Yes. Other popular affirmations: va bene (fine), okay.
No: No
Dov'è: Where. You may ask "Dov'è (street or landmark)...?" for directions.

Surrounded by the Atlantic Ocean on the north and the Caribbean Sea on the south, the lush tropical island paradise of Dominican Republic has it all: nearly 1000 miles of coastline, 250 miles of the world's top beaches, magnificent resorts and hotels, and a variety of sports, recreation, and entertainment options.

Dance to the pulse-pounding thrill and rhythm of the merengue, renew in luxurious and diverse accommodations, explore ancient relics of centuries past, delight in delicious local cuisine, or enjoy ecotourism adventures in magnificent national parks, mountain ranges, rivers, and beaches. Miles of unspoiled nature fill this island, ready for families to discover together. A year-round family destination, the Dominican Republic boasts excellent all-inclusive resorts. Included in the price are day- and night-filling activity programs, where everyone can do their own thing.

INSIDER TIPS

- Spend the day at Ocean World Adventure Park in Puerto Plata
- Zipline over the most beautiful Caribbean landscapes
- Go horseback riding to El Limón Waterfalls in Samaná

ME TO WE

ME to WE offers travelers a unique opportunity to be part of sustainable change in communities around the world. Working alongside charity partner Free The Children, the company organizes weeklong “Volunteer Adventures” for visitors to Kenya and India. During their stay, travelers will participate in sustainable development projects alongside local communities and be immersed in local culture, all while enjoying safety, security, and comfortable accommodations.

Volunteer alongside community members on a development project as part of WE Charity’s sustainable development model, WE Villages. Through WE Villages, local staff work with rural villages and regional governments to support, teach, and empower people within five Pillars of Impact that lead communities to true independence: Education, Water, Health, Food and Opportunity. With 20 years of history building WE Villages, each hands-on experiential trip offers participants and communities the opportunity to partner and learn from each other.

Every ME to WE Immersive Volunteer Trip is built on a defining level of service and commitment, called Signature Service. Expert ME to WE staff members guide and assist with every step of your journey from the moment you reach out to them until after you return. From beginning to end, they take care of all the details, so you can focus on what’s really important: being present and connected.

NATIONAL PARKS REVEALED

At National Parks Revealed, each journey celebrates the natural beauty and magnificence of America’s National Parks in Alaska, California, and the western United States. Each is an immersive, personalized experience, and includes touring with a knowledgeable guide, upscale best-in-class accommodations, exclusive access, and a host of activities to fill your days.

The experts at National Parks Revealed have walked the best trails, discovered inside secrets, found the best vista points, and selected best-in-class accommodation, in the pursuit of incomparable experiences in and around America’s sacred and magnificent National Parks and National Monuments.

Revel in how profound and powerful it is to just be present—slow down and take it all in as you witness the majesty, the beauty, the tranquility. It might take the form of a guide who has seemingly supernatural abilities to spot not just big game but the tiniest of birds, insects, and flowers. It might be that you—or your children—are just slightly out of your comfort zone and loving it.

Journeys with National Parks Revealed offer travel experiences that will challenge and delight you physically, intellectually, and spiritually. National Parks Revealed: custom private journeys into America’s most sacred, wild and magnificent lands. Come play in our neighborhood.
